 Canby Post, No. 36, G. A. R.; A. H. Jewett, Commander; George E. Crowell, Adjutant; meets second Saturday of each month.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

A fine shower, Monday night, laid the dust and cooled and cleared the air.

Mr. La France's new scales fill a long felt want, and are patronized liberally.

Mr. A. J. Rand is down from Lost Lake and will not return there this fall.

Messrs. J. A. Wilson and H. T. Coffin are at Lost Lake fishing and hunting.

Mr. H. T. Coffin, of Portland, came up last Saturday night for a week's outing.

Mr. A. B. Jones and Mr. McLean went up to Lyle last Saturday, returning Tuesday.

The wheat crop of this section will average twenty-five bushels per acre and is of fine quality.

Messrs. Blowers & Crowell are having some repairing done around their building, preparing for winter.

The schoolhouse is being put up just as fast as men can do the work. It will be done in the time stipulated.

Mr. Henry Wagner arrived here last Saturday night, from Idaho, and is visiting his mother, Mrs. J. N. Reynolds.

Mrs. J. E. Watt, of Pullman, W. T., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith, arriving here last Saturday.

Business has been quite dull for the past week, owing to the farmers being engaged in threshing and fruit drying.

Hood River was without mail from Portland, from Saturday night until Tuesday owing to the burning of bridges west of here.

We understand the ladies are contemplating giving a series of entertainments soon, the proceeds to be used in building a public hall.

We have failed to receive any items from the Cascade locks this week, owing probably to the burned bridges and interrupted mail facilities.

A fire broke out in the business portion of Tacoma, Thursday, and destroyed three blocks and a half before it was controlled. The fire originated in a lodging house.

The Indians are catching the big sea trout now in a manner to surprise even the natives. We saw, Wednesday, as fine strings of them as were ever caught in Hood river.

The Harbison Bros., have bought the flouring mill of D. D. Rogers and will move it to their place on Neal creek. It will be put in good order at once for grinding both wheat and corn.

There will be quite a large amount of fruit dried in this section this season, and in a year or two, when the young orchards begin to bear, the shipments of both green and dried fruits will increase until it becomes our leading industry.

Messrs. Crandall & Burget, the leading undertakers, of The Dalles, have just moved into their new rooms at 106 Second street. They have a full line of caskets and coffins, and are prepared to do any work in their line. Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

Owing to the bridges being burned between here and Portland the side tracks at The Dalles became over crowded with freight cars and the pressure was removed by bringing some of them to Mosier and this point where they are side tracked to await the opening of the road.

Mr. John Stoddard is willing to build his flume to this place and move his planing mill here provided the citizens will secure for him the right of way. This is an opportunity that should not be neglected, and our business men should unite in securing the desired right of way at once.

The Winans hotel is about completed and will prove a great convenience to the traveling public. It is conveniently located near the forks of the river, is the headquarters for fishing and hunting parties, being situated most favorably for both, and commands a fine view of Hood and the surrounding mountains. The offices and public rooms of the hotel are finished up with native cedar and are very handsome, the guests rooms are some thirty-five in number and are as yet unfinished. Next year this will be a popular resort for sportsmen.

Goldendale, W. T., is again afflicted with diphtheria, four children having died from that dread disease within the past ten days. The Sentinel, this week, records the death of Grizzell and Ella, daughters of Waldo and Mary Glover, from this cause, the former on Saturday and Ella on Monday.

All the communication with the outside world being now by boat, it makes one think of old times to go down to the landing and wait one to five hours for the boat, and shows forcibly the improvement over the old order of things. The boat is a great convenience, but the railroad knocks it out in fine shape when it is passable at all.

We are in receipt of a complimentary ticket to the fair at The Dalles. The premium list this year is an excellent one, and our farmers should make an energetic effort to make a creditable display of our products. The fair commences September 23d and holds for six days. For premium list apply to J. O. Mack, secretary of the association, or drop into this office and we will supply you.

While A. J. Rand was roaming through the woods near Lost Lake last week, he came across a very large cinnamon bear. The bear was taking a big breakfast of whortle berries and Rand took a shot at him, but missed, the bullet striking a tree. The bear finished his breakfast suddenly and lit out for the hills, while Mr. Rand started for his "Home in the Clouds," not exactly on a run, but a regular six days go-as-you-please walk.

Mr. John Monroe is circulating a petition to the county court asking for $150, to be expended in widening the grade on the east side of Hood river, from the bridge to Reynolds house. This is a matter our county court should attend to at once as the place is very dangerous, and the improvement will most likely save the county a bill of damages at the end of a law suit. There is a great deal of travel over this road and it is a matter of wonder that a bad accident has not occurred at this point.

Another Opinion.

HOOD RIVER, OR., Aug. 21, 1889.
 Editor HOOD RIVER GLACIER:

I saw in your issue of the 17th an article on "anti-irrigation," by Sojourner, and one on the 24th instant on "pro-irrigation," by Bona Fide. Now, then I should like to show both Sojourner and Bona Fide where they are wrong. The former is wrong when he says that farm products, outside of small fruits, do not need irrigation, for everyone knows that vegetation does better when irrigated. Bona Fide is wrong when he says that large trees need irrigation. I can show him large fruit trees, full of fine fruit, that never had a drop of water by irrigation, but they had cultivation. He tells us that irrigation has the same effect as rain. I am of the opinion he does not know what he is talking about. Water is put on trees by irrigation during hot, dry weather and stimulates an unnatural growth while rain comes through a course of nature that changes the temperature of the air and all the elements are in harmony. I believe irrigation is good for all small fruits and vegetables, but when it comes to large fruits on good ground it is unnecessary. Let us have enough water but not too much of the good thing.

Yours truly,
 J. W. MORTON.

An Ingenious Scheme.

An East Portland girl who was persecuted by a beau who persisted in coming often and staying late and was completely impervious to hints, recently hit upon the following ingenious plan to rid herself of an obnoxious swain. She gave him pencil and paper and said: "Now make a row of eleven cyphers; now make a perpendicular mark downward on the right side of the first cypher; upward on the right side of the fourth; downward on the right of the fifth; upward on the right of the seventh and eighth; downward on the right of the tenth." She then asked him to read what he had written. The effect was electrical.—Vindicator.

A Visit.

HAYNES SPRING, OR., Aug. 27, 1889.
 Editor HOOD RIVER GLACIER,

We were greatly surprised as well as pleased, to see our friend Mr. George Robison, from Latourelle Falls, Sunday morning, who came up to make us a short call. We spent a very pleasant day with him talking over old times. We hope to have him with us soon to stay. He returned on Monday morning.

CITY ITEMS.

Eye glasses at Prather's.
 Boys' knee pants at Middleton's.
 Call in at G. T. Prather's and get his prices on goods.

Middleton got in a fine lot of shoes from Chicago this week.

Buckingham & Hecht's boots, all grades, for men and boys' at Middleton's.

When you want a sewing machine buy the White, for sale by Geo. T. Prather.

Go to Crandall & Burget, at The Dalles, for furniture and carpets. Both goods and prices will suit you.

A fine line of crockery and glassware has just been received by G. T. Prather, which will be sold at bottom prices.

I have a good second hand sewing machine which I will sell cheap.
 GEO. T. PRATHER.

All that want horse shoeing done will please come Mondays and Tuesdays as there is no certainty of my being in the shop except on those days.
 W. E. NEFF.

I will be at Hood River on Saturdays, for the purpose of repairing tinware, and doing all kinds of job work in that line, at Rand's hardware store.
 O. L. COOPER.

"For Time at last sets all things even,
 And if we do but watch the hour,
 There never yet was human power
 Which could evade, if unforgiven,
 The patient search, and vigil long,
 Of him who treasures up a wrong."

And if you want to know just when to kick yourself or somebody else, or anything of that kind buy a watch of E. Beck at The Dalles that will give you the time to the fraction of a second.

Harvey Scott describes Terry as an intemperate intellectual desperado, and says that "he well represents the history and character of the Democratic party." Does the distinguished hyena not know that Field is a Democrat?

NOTICE.

All those wanting to purchase prunes can be supplied at my place two miles below town. I will sell them at 2 cents per pound.
